

2021 NCRLA Foundation Scholarship awards FAQ

Is there a minimum GPA to be considered for a scholarship award? Yes, to be considered for any NCRLA Foundation scholarship your GPA must be a minimum 3.0 on a weighted scale for high school seniors and unweighted scale for college undergraduate students at the time of application.

Can I use the scholarship awards for graduate work? At this time, all of the NCRLA Foundation scholarships are available to undergraduates enrolling for the upcoming academic year at two-year and/or four-year colleges and universities.

Are the awards available to students that parents living in North Carolina but attend school in another state? NCRLA Foundation scholarships may only be used at post-secondary schools in North Carolina.

What if I am given a scholarship award but decide to wait a year before enrolling in the college program. Can I hold the award until I'm ready? All awards are for use in the upcoming academic year. If you decide not to enroll and attend post-secondary school, the award will be forfeited, and you will need to complete the application process again when you are ready.

I received an award last year. Does it automatically renew? All applicants must go through the application process each year. NCRLA Foundation awards do not automatically renew.

What if I change schools before August and decide to attend another NC college? Awards can be transferred to a different school prior to the beginning of the term. Please let our office know prior to receiving the second semester portion of the award.

What is the application deadline for scholarships?

The scholarship deadline is March 12, 2021 and transcripts must be received and time stamped by 11:59pm.

Please note: The Johnson and Wales Chancellor Award has an application deadline of January 25, 2021.

How will I know if I have been selected as an award recipient? All award recipients will be notified in April via email provided and winners will be posted on the NCRLA website.

When do I receive my award? Awards will be distributed at the NCRLA Foundation Excellence in Education Awards Brunch or mailed to the address provided. The date for awards ceremony is to be determined.